Chairman's Letter

Dear Friends, Well-wishers, and Esteemed Donors,

I share my thoughts on behalf of the Trust with immense gratitude and pride. Your unwavering support has been the cornerstone of our mission—empowering underprivileged families through education and breaking the cycle of poverty that has persisted for generations. We firmly believe that education is the most powerful tool to reduce economic inequality and uplift not just individuals but entire communities and, ultimately, our nation.

With your generous contributions, we have witnessed incredible transformations. Year after year, our beneficiaries are completing higher education in diverse fields such as Engineering (BE), Chartered Accountancy (CA), Medicine (MBBS), Business Administration (MBA, BBA), Human Resource Management (MHRM), Company Secretaryship (CS), and Cost and Management Accountancy (CMA). These talented individuals are now employed in some of the world's best corporations, proving that with guidance and opportunity, every child has the potential to achieve greatness.

Our efforts extend beyond academics; we are also fostering talent in sports. Many students from the slums of Delhi have secured admissions in premier sports colleges, pursuing their dreams with dedication. One shining example is Balli Yadav, who began working as a child in fourth grade and never imagined attending college. Today, thanks to the mentorship and support of the Trust, he has completed a Bachelor's in Physical Education from Amity University, Delhi. He now works as a football coach and has successfully organized football tournaments for slum children through corporate sponsorship. His story is a testament to the power of education and mentorship.

Another remarkable success is Saurav Das, who once thought studying abroad was an unattainable dream. Today, he has earned his Master's degree in Archaeology from the prestigious Haifa University in Israel. These are just a few among many inspiring journeys. From Chartered Accountants to doctors, engineers to corporate professionals, our beneficiaries are excelling in their fields, bringing pride to our Trust and to all who have supported them.

The journeys of Rutvi Goswami, Pavan Kahar, Arpit Jain, Dheeraj, and Nemi Shah are shining examples of extreme adversity turned into triumph. With the Trust's financial support, guidance, and, no doubt, their own hard work, they have overcome tremendous challenges and emerged victorious. Their stories continue to inspire us and reinforce our commitment to this cause.

C.R. Kothari Memorial Charitable Trust

What fills our hearts with even more joy is that these very beneficiaries have started giving back to the Trust, helping current students in need. This beautiful cycle of support and gratitude is shaping responsible citizens who believe in the power of giving at an early stage. We sincerely thank them for their generosity and commitment.

We are also expanding our outreach in Darbhanga (Bihar) and Varanasi, where retired IIT professors are guiding and mentoring students from the most disadvantaged backgrounds. Our corporate partner, All e Technologies Ltd., has been a pillar of support, reinforcing our belief that collective efforts can bring about meaningful change.

This year alone, the Trust has supported over 900 students with financial assistance amounting to approximately Rs. 1 crore. These contributions have provided students with the opportunity to pursue their dreams and secure a brighter future.

As we look ahead, we seek your continued support to reach more children, nurture more dreams, and build a brighter future for all. Thank you for standing with us in this noble cause. Together, we can transform lives.

With heartfelt gratitude,

Pradeep Kothari

Last year, Dr. Pramod Joshi, Trustee of CRKMCT, visited one of the Kashi Utkarsh centers in Varanasi. This year, 21 students have been awarded scholarships under the Kashi-Utkarsh initiative. We would like to extend our heartfelt appreciation to Prof. Ashim Mukherjee and the dedicated IIT (BHU) team for their continuous efforts in teaching, counselling, and mentoring these students. Their work is helping to improve the lives of underprivileged communities by educating them on hygiene practices and emphasizing the importance of providing quality education to their children.
